BRANT KIRK'S DEMOCRACY.
Under date line of yesterday from Oklahoma City General Brant Kirk, commander of the sons of confederates, gives out the following interview:

"It has been stated by the Oklahoma News and other papers that in all probability I would not support the democratic ticket because a prohibition plank was not put in the democratic platform. It is true I am an ardent supporter of the prohibition cause and have been on the stump for prohibition, but the fact does not, in the least manner, abate my enthusiasm for the democratic cause.

This report is absolutely groundless. I am now proclaiming democracy from the stump. I stated to the people on the stump when I was a candidate for this democratic nomination for United States senator, up to the time of my withdrawal from the race, that I would support the democratic ticket from top to bottom, as I have done in North Carolina and Texas all my life. I am for the democratic ticket, the constitution and statehood with all my soul and strength.

Democracy must rule; railroads must pay taxes; coons and carphaggers must go. As a Southern democrat, I admonish my friends to stand by Haskell till the last foe expires. Haskell is an Ohio democrat but our ticket is made up chiefly of Southern men. There is no room in this state for sectionalism; this is one grand reunited country forever."

sign, there is now a fine black or colored strip in the material forming a sort of trellis effect with the flowers climbing over it. In mouse-line de sole and all such light, cool textures this design is truly charming unless the gown is worn over a colored silk foundation, comparatively brilliant shades must be selected for the sheer materials.

The gowns have become quite an important adjunct of the summer outfit, but of all the gowns in midday wardrobe it must be absolutely correct in cut, color, finish and timeliness. Many are the beautiful materials that are now offered for their construction and it is well to remember that the soft, clinging fabrics are the better materials to choose, as the effect desired is softness, raininess, something vapory and cloud-like. For this muslins, fine wools and silks are best.

Melon Party.
The Tom Roberts home on North Washington was gay and festive Friday evening, the occasion being a melon party given by Willie and May to their little friends.

The lawn was brightly lighted with Japanese lanterns.
Various games were indulged in, and a royal good time was had. The guest list included Geraldine Coleman, Edna Bowman, Golda Bowman, Myrtle Stykley, Bertie Wiggs, Mattie Cheney, Pauline Pace, Rosna Henry, Earl Felker, Frank Blake, more, Daw and Dick Walker, Robert and Gene Ledbetter, Harry and Leo Morehead and Roy Akers.

Mrs. Alexander is assisting and has also taken a course in the work.

The Lowenstein orchestra has been augmented by two other pieces, Prof. La Cumba of Dallas, with cornet, and Jack London violin.

The music was exceptionally fine, and the "sma wee" hours came all too soon. If all the dances are this enjoyable as the opening one, this will be the gayest season in their history.

The dancers were: Miss Miller and Roy Brady, Miss Gray and — Cock-roft, Miss Parker and Elwood Wol-verton, Miss O'Neal and — Whitfield, Miss Hudson and Tom Bogle, Miss Lowden and — Costella, Miss Gar-denhire and Ed Green, Mr. and Mrs. Will Prater, Mr. and Mrs. Wert, Wret Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. W.
